1985

VOL. 16 NO. 3 FALL

Dedication Ceremony Set for September 28

On Sat., Sept. 28, a formal Dedication Ceremony will be held to celebrate the occupancy of CSC's new library, gymnasium and campus center complex. Archbishop Rembert Weakland, OSB, Sr. Joanne Meyer, director of the Congregation of Sisters of St. Francis of Assisi, and Sr. Camille Kliebhan, Stritch's president, will be principal speakers at the historic event — which will begin at 2:00 p.m. in the Great Hall.

During the hour-long program, faculty, staff and students will be directly involved — along with representatives of the Board of Directors, President's Advisory Council, Jubilee '87 Campaign volunteers, CSC Alumni Association, Mothers Club, Friends of San Damiano, benefactors and other constituencies of the College.

Open House Scheduled

A Community Open House, featuring tours and refreshments, will follow. The public is invited.

Kresge Library Grant "Challenges" CSC Drive

The Kresge Foundation has awarded a $250,000 challenge grant toward construction of Stritch's new library. The Kresge grant represents one of the largest contributions to the College's Jubilee '87 Campaign to raise $10 million for expansion, remodeling and endowment purposes.

"Such strong support and endorsement by the prestigious Kresge Foundation provides both financial assistance and increased credibility to our important mission of independent higher education in the liberal arts tradition," Sr. Camille Kliebhan said.

Many Proposals Reviewed

After screening 1,369 proposals in 1985, the Kresge Foundation, of Troy, MI, awarded grant commitments totaling over $40 million to 140 charitable organizations in 37 states, the District of Columbia and two foreign countries. Most recipients had raised initial project funds before requesting Foundation help.

Kresge grants were then authorized on a challenge basis — requiring the raising of remaining funds — thereby insuring project completion. According to Patrick Cotter, Jubilee '87 Campaign chairman, "this means we must raise funds needed to pay for our $2.8 million library by the end of this year to meet the terms of the challenge."

GREETINGS — Sr. Camille Kliebhan, president, welcomed Coach Don Nelson to the College's new gymnasium as the Milwaukee Bucks basketball team relocated its practice sessions.

Milwaukee Bucks Choose New Gymnasium As Official Practice Facility for NBA Team

The Bucks Stop Here... according to an impressive walnut signplate which was presented as a personal gift to Sister Camille for the College President's desk by Herbert Kohl, owner of Milwaukee's professional basketball team, to commemorate a significant alliance for CSC. To wit: the Milwaukee Bucks' organization has entered into a 2-year arrangement to utilize Stritch's new gym for regular practices and related team activities.

As finishing touches were being made to the campus fieldhouse, the Bucks "moved in" and conducted their 1985 Rookies' Tryout Camp, July 22-24. Coach Don Nelson and his staff expressed great satisfaction with the physical facilities used and cordial hospitality extended.

Athletic Director Comments

Tom Moore, CSC's athletic director and men's basketball coach, is ecstatic over the deal because contractual agreements provide that visiting National Basketball Association teams which come to Milwaukee a day early for games will also be allowed to hold practice sessions on campus.

Board Re-elects Officers At Its Annual Meeting

Joseph F. Flanagan and James J. Loughlin were re-elected chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the board of directors of Cardinal Stritch College for 1985-86 at the group's annual meeting.

Flanagan recently retired as senior vice president of the Milwaukee Journal and Milwaukee Sentinel. Loughlin is managing partner of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Mil.

"This means that such other stars as Larry Bird, Kareem and Dr. J. may be shooting baskets in our gym along with Terry Cummings, Sidney Moncrief and the rest of our favorite players," according to Coach Moore.

"We fully expect the current partnership to be mutually beneficial," Sister Camille added — with an eye toward recruiting qualified young athletes attracted to the Bucks' home base.

New Major Approved In Special Education

Stritch has expanded its Master degree programs in Special Education to include concentration in the area of Emotional Disturbance. The College's new offering has been approved by Wisconsin's State Department of Public Instruction and the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, according to Sr. Gabrielle Kowalski, Special Education Dept. head.

Two new courses — Psychology of the Emotionally Disturbed and Management of the Emotionally Disturbed — will be introduced during the Fall 1985 semester.

National Body Votes Program Accreditation

The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education voted at its June 1985 meeting to grant continuing accreditation to Stritch's educational personnel programs in Education, Reading and Special Education — for the maximum 7-year term until September 1, 1992. NCATE's authorization covers both Undergraduate and Graduate Division degree offerings.

This official approval concludes a year-long process of examination and evaluation, which required both (a) preparation of a detailed 3-volume Self-Study report from CSC and (b) an on-site visitation by a 9-member NCATE consultant team for three days last Spring.

Three Colleges Plan Leadership Workshop

Cardinal Stritch, Concordia and Mount Mary Colleges will participate in a Leadership Development Workshop for Academic Chairpersons conducted by a resource team representing the American Council on Education and supported by the Stackner Foundation, Mil. The 2-day training session will be held at CSC, Sept. 19-20.

Dr. William Hynes, dean of campus programs, Regis College, and Dr. Toni Iadarola, provost, College of Mount St. Joseph, are the visiting consultants. They will be meeting with approximately 50 faculty leaders from the three local, independent liberal arts institutions.

Joint Planning Noted

The agenda of workshop topics was selected cooperatively by the respective academic deans involved — Dr. Edward Clarke (CSC), Dr. David Eggebrecht (Concordia) and Sr. Patricia Ann Preston, SSND (Mount Mary).

Particular attention will be focused upon (a) decision-making and goal-setting within departments, and (b) faculty development and evaluation.

Graduation Policy

Cardinal Stritch College has reinstated the policy of having only one formal Commencement Ceremony each year in May.

Students who complete academic degree programs at other times can be issued diplomas at the end of the summer session and fall semester. All candidates will be invited to participate in the May Graduation.

Apostolate with Mentally Retarded Convenes On Campus and Visits St. Coletta School

The National Apostolate with Mentally Retarded Persons held its 15th Annual Conference at Stritch, Aug. 13-16, centered on the theme — "Models of Ministry." Fr. Flavian Dougherty, CP, was the keynote speaker, and Sr. Coletta Dunn, Religious Studies Dept. head, was chairperson for the ecumenical event which involved many CSC alumni.

Civic Leader Receives CSC Honorary Degree

Cardinal Stritch College conferred the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws, on Patrick W. Cotter, prominent attorney and civic leader, during its 1985 Commencement Exercises on Sun., May 19. He was cited for "his witness to Christian values, exemplary citizenship, professional accomplishments and remarkable record of direct involvement and extraordinary leadership in community affairs."

Over the years, Cotter has been a member, director or officer of more than 50 civic and charitable organizations, and has been recognized widely through a number of prestigious awards.

Cotter has served as general chairman of the Jubilee '87 Capital Fund Campaign since its inception.

Reading Conference Features Authorities

The College's 37th Annual Fall Reading/Language Arts Conference will be held on Sat., Sept. 28, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Dr. Barbara Swaby will deliver the keynote address — "Reading and Writing Instruction That Matters." Dr. Swaby is Reading Dept. head, University of Colorado — Colorado Springs, and author of Teaching and Learning Reading.

Dr. John T. Guthrie, director of the Center for Educational Research and Development, University of Maryland, will conduct two sectional meetings on current research on reading and writing instruction. Other sectional meetings will feature demonstration-presentations by specialists on strategies for reading and writing.

Spear Program Introduced

Also, Cheryl Clancy, of the Wisconsin Spear Program, will introduce the Sports Parade newspaper for motivating reluctant readers and writers.

For information, contact Dr. Robert Pavlik, conference director, at (414) 352-5400.

Program features included a bus tour to St. Coletta School, Jefferson, for five workshop sessions, liturgy and dinner, Wed., Aug. 14. The next day, 11 workshops were held on campus — culminating with the President's Annual Banquet at which Sr. Gabrielle Kowalski, Special Education Dept. head, assumed office as NAMRP's president for 1985-86. The Conference ended on Friday with five sectional meetings.

Srs. Joanne Marie Kliebhan, Special Education Dept., and Adele Thibaudeau, CSC Campus Ministry Office, spoke at sectional workshops. Sr. Lourdette Van Driel coordinated housing arrangements.

Faye McBeath Foundation Awards Grant To Expand Program for Gifted Learners

Stritch's Center for Gifted Learners has received a $60,000 grant from the Faye McBeath Foundation, Mil. Allocations were designated for $40,000 in August 1985 and $20,000 in August 1986.

The total grant covers hiring of staff and acquisition of certain equipment necessary for learning areas for the gifted — such as musical instruments, foreign language tapes, primary typewriters, research models, apparatus for movement education, maps, globes, microscopes and telescopes.

Now in its second year, the Gifted Center has a staff of 20, headed by Sharon Gerleman, coordinator, including college graduate students doing field experiences and licensed teachers from several school districts.

Child Care Service Introduced at Stritch

In response to adult student requests during recent years, Stritch will provide child care service on campus commencing this fall through the Fishing Pond Learning Center, an independently owned, operated and duly licensed enterprise. Its program will be conducted daily (7:45 a.m.-5:15 p.m.), Mon.-Fri., in the College's Reading/Learning Center.

The Fishing Pond Learning Center will serve children, ages 2½ through 6, of students, faculty and staff throughout the 1985-86 academic year, according to Maggie Balistreri-Drewak, dean of students.

STRITCH IS GROWING . . .

For nearly 50 years, Cardinal Stritch College has provided thousands of students with a quality education. Throughout this period, it has never asked Milwaukee for major financial support. To accommodate a growing student body and expanding program needs, it has just constructed a library, a gym and a student activity center. It needs your financial support — Milwaukee. Please make a gift now to Cardinal Stritch College's Jubilee '87 capital fund drive so that it can continue to meet the academic needs of the Community.

Cardinal Stritch has attained a reputation for excellence as a small, independent college. The size of its classes permits personal interchange between the professor and student. Stritch's concept of education, its independence, and its role in providing a needed alternative to the larger, government-funded colleges and universities are treasures to be guarded. It deserves your financial as well as philosophical support.

Excellence speaks for itself. Cardinal Stritch College has received significant recognition for its Studio and Art curricula. Diversity — plus a talented, enthusiastic faculty — virtually guarantees success at all levels of training. Creativity radiates from a unique gallery setting. Here, amid the tranquil beauty of Studio San Damiano, small classes offer the serious student the atmosphere for success.

Come, enrich your life — share the excitement of the Arts.

Cardinal Stritch College has proven itself creative and flexible, moving aggressively in the development of new programs. One example of this is the Department of Nursing, established in 1981. Beginning with its first class of 23 students, it has shown remarkable growth with an enrollment that now stands at nearly 400. Stritch is dedicated to providing the innovative Nursing Education needed in today's changing health care environment.

Emily Erickson Appointed As Registrar; New Personnel Named in Other Offices

Staff changes for 1985-86 have taken place in the Offices of Registrar, Admissions, Campus Ministry and Dean of Students. Additional personnel have also been appointed in the Library, and a new Communication Arts Dept. head has been named.

(The next issue will list appointments to (a) administrative positions in Programs in Management for Adults and the Institute for Professional Development, and (b) full-time faculty at large.)

New Registrar Named

Register Record High

For the first time, the College's summer enrollments in Undergraduate and Graduate Division courses both on and off campus surpassed the 2,000 mark in 1985. Registration totals were as follows: Summer Session classes and workshops — 1,357 and Programs in Management for Adults — 963.

Educational Computing Grows in Popularity

Because the need for "computer literacy" is fast becoming a major contemporary challenge to classroom teachers and school administrators, Stritch's Master of Education Program in Educational Computing has already enrolled over 60 educators. Some travel as far as 50 miles to attend classes which are scheduled in fall, spring and summer during convenient afternoon and evening hours, or on Saturday mornings.

According to Dr. James Kasum, this graduate program requires 30 credit hours — chosen from among 17 approved courses — plus a Master's thesis or project, which may range from research to authorship of a substantial work of educational software. The program is one of few of its kind in the nation.
